After Product is Registered, It is Subject to:

- q Annual Renewal
- q Quarterly Mill Assessment Payment
- q Data Call-in
- q Reevaluation
- q Risk Assessment
- q Regulatory Action

Data Call-Ins

- q After a product is registered, additional data can be called in if either of the following occurs:
 - 7 Legislation requires it
 - 7 Reevaluation is initiated

Initiation of Reevaluation Process

- q DPR is required to investigate information indicating a pesticide may have, or is likely to, cause adverse effect:
 - q 1. Data submitted by registrant
 - q 2. Other state or local agency
 - q 3. Public

Factors that can Trigger Reevaluation

- q Public or Worker Health Hazard
- q Environmental Contamination
- q Residue Over Tolerance
- q Fish or Wildlife Hazard
- q Lack of Efficacy
- q Undesirable Phytotoxicity

Reevaluation Process

- q DPR may require registrants to provide data
- q Status of reevaluation included in semi-annual report
- q DPR may cancel products due to registrant's failure to provide data

Reevaluation: Possible Outcomes

- q No further mitigation measures needed
- q Mitigation measures needed:
 - Regulation
 - Permit Conditions
 - Label Amendments
- q Adverse effect cannot be mitigated; pesticide product(s) must be canceled

Risk Assessment

- q Formal risk assessment is done on new active ingredients after registration
- q Three prioritization categories

Cancellation

- q No immediate hazard
- q Written accusation sent, allowing 10 days to request a hearing
- q Hearing requested, Administrative Law Judge makes ruling to cancel or not
- q If no hearing requested, cancel
- q Cancellation stops sales by registrant (and possibly dealers)

Suspension

- q A product's registration can be suspended, if immediate hazard
- q Product remains registered, but the registrant (and usually dealers) can no longer sell product
- q Have right to a hearing. Outcome may be cancellation
